The undersigned, late Governor of Hungary, is, by his prolonged detention, reduced to despair of either justice or generosity. He, who is forced to abandon hope, has nothing further to fear from force or violence; he is beyond all constraint.

The undersigned has reached this point.

To-day is the anniversary of our arrival at Kutahja! Kutahja! the tomb, where the Sublime Porte has buried us alive, whilst speaking to us of hospitality.

hospitality.

Pursued by misfortune, we stopped before the threshold of the Mussulman, and asked from him, in the name of fiod, in the name of humanity, in the name of his religion, a hospitable asylum, or a free passage. The Turkish government had entire liberty to receive us or not.

It had the right of saying: I will give you shelter in a prison, or in some distant place where you will be detained and strictly guarded. This is the hospitality which Turkey offers you. If it does not please you, hasten your departure, rid us of your embarrassing presence.

This was not said to us.

The Sublime Porte deigned to open to us its sheltering tent; it entreated us to cross the threshold, and swore by its God and its faith that it would grant us hospitality and a safe asylum. We trusted ourselves to the honor of the Turks. We eat of their bread and of their salt; we reposed under their roof.

We prayed to God to bless them, and we offered them our courage, our experience matured by vicissitudes, and our everlasting gratitude. And Hungarian skeep their word.

Look at Bomis, where Mussulmen, subjects of the Sublime Porte, are revolted against it. A handful of Hungarian soldiers are in the ranks of its army—it is but a handful, for the Porte would not accept more. Well: who are first upon the breach? who are first in the charge? who are they who never retreat, who advance, in the midst of fire and grape shot, bayonet in hand, to victory? They are this handful of exiles. They die for Turkey: the Hungarian keep his word.

They offered us hospitality, and they gave us a prison; they swore to us that we should meet with an asylum, and we have found banishment. God will judge; and Godie just.

We have suffered; but for the sake of not causing embarrasement, we have been silent. They begged us to wait. We have shown it. They begged us to wait to heave shown it. They begged us to wait to have confidence. We have shown it. They begged us to wait to the support of her master, the Car, to encroach upon the nations of Europe, to ex

When he arrived there, he had been already anticipated by the accusations of Austria, who sees everywhere my hand in the well-founded discontent of her oppressed people, and who, as her whole life is a conspiracy against God and humanity, finds conspiracy in everything. Austria then anticipated him, by the lying accusation of being the bearer of proclamation from me to the Hungarian nation. The accusation was false. I affirm it on my honor. Nevertheless, on the faith of spies, without honor or character, Austria caused to be arrested at Semlin his poor wife, on her way to join her exiled husband, and the imaginary proclamations were demanded as the price of her liberty.

Domnotor justified himself before the Serbian government in so striking a manner, that that govern-

Domotor justified himself before the Serbian government in so striking a manner, that that government, although only a feeble vassal of the powerful Ottoman empire, found sufficient strength in the justice of his cause to protect him.

Austria was obliged to loose her hold. The poor wife was permitted to join her husband, but upon condition that Domotor should immediately leave Helgrade.

This poor woman is a creditor of Austria. Her entire heritage, the money of the orphan, is in the hands of Austria, not by confiscation but in trust. Domotor resisted the insolent demands of the Austrian Consul, until the debt due to his wife should be paid.

This is his crime. He dared to demand the return of the poor orphan's heritage.

turn of the poor orphan's heritage.

The Serbian government continued generously to support and protect him for eight months.

But as the Austrian Consul persisted in his persecution, and as the Dragoman of the Pachialik of Beigrade (who is rather an officer of Austria than of the Sublime Porte) made common cause with forte) made common cause wit of the Sublime Porto) made common cause with the Consul, the Serbian government was at length obliged to remove him from Belgrade; but his cause was so just that our government even then gave him permission to reside at Kragujevaer, and continued its protection to enable him to follow up his indicial dispute with Austria.

It was under such circumstances that Major Domotor, seeing the commercial enterprise which he had undertaken in order to support himself and his wife, ruined by this removal, and finding it impossible to provide for the existence of his wife in the city in which a residence was offered to him, was obliged to leave her without money, exposed to die of hunger, to come again to ask my assistance and advice. He came furnished with regular passports.

He was upon the point of departure, when, on the anniversary itself of our detention at Kutahja, an order suddenly arrived from the Grand Vinier that he also should be detained.

His passports were regular; he was neither a subject nor a guest of Turkey; his wife was friendless, and dying of hunger at Kragujevser, but what of that! It seems that the agents of Austria have the power to treat with ridicule the rights of nations, and the personal safety of individuals in Turkey. One of them caused an Hungarian to be publicly arrested at Susyma, because he was one of my servants, and transported him to an Austrian dungeon, where he still languishes; another caused Turkish houses to be searched even in the capital of the Fadishah, in order to possess himself of papers belonging to the Hungarian emigrants. He inveigled others into his official residence, as in a trap, and there he caused them to be bound and carried on beard Austrian vessels, because they refused to accept an insulting amnesty from the hands of the executioners of their country; others entired there, and detained by force, have been so meanced and threatened that they have sought a vipluntary death to escape from Austrian grace.

At length the Austrian agents drew up a calumnous denunciation against Major Domotor, which the Serbian government found upon inquiry to be so totally without foundation, that into only treated it as such, but even gave permission to Donotor to reside at Kragajevacr, the Serbian capital. And the Sublime Porte, upon the faith of this calumnious denunciation, without inquiry, without investigation, arrested my countryman, and ordered his confinement at Kutahja, although he was only a traveller, provided with regular passports, recognized as innocent by the Serbian government, and taken under its protection: it was enough that he was an Hungarian.

Here is yet more, in the order which indicted this confinement at Kutahja, although he was only a traveller, to the fall to be followed by disnatrons consequences, it between the fal collisions which may be provoked, determined to die rather than to submit to a prolongation of their sufferings. Louis Kessurn. fferings. Kutahja, April 13, 1851.

INDIA RUBBER SHOES.

The manufacture of this article has reached a number of millions in value yearly. The first cost to manufacture ladies' shoes is about 22 cents per pair, and the retail price is one dollar. The first cost of those for men's wear is from 33 to 38 cents per pair, and the retail price about one and a quarter to one and a half dollars per pair. The daily product in the United States is over 15,000 pair. The process by which these shoes are made, has thus far been kept a secret. This art is of great value and importance, and has not yet been discovered in Europe. The following agreement by which the manufacturers are leagued together, will show the terms. It seems all rubber goods, by whatever process made, are to be considered by the parties to this contract as made under Goodyear's patents, and the makers are to prosecute through the courts of highest resort, and have all the damages which they may recover, and defray all the expenses. Mr. Goodyear grants the use of his name, whenever desired by those who have entered into the arrangement. The profits on this business will reach almost two millions of dollars, this year, and the present manufactories cannot supply the demand. Shoes which weigh nine ounces per pair, have only about three and a half ounces of rubber, the other materials being worth only from one to six cents per pound. One girl can make from twenty to thirty pair per day, for which her wages are two to three cents per pair. The expense of curing or heating twelve hundred pair does not reach three dollars.

INDENTURE of assignment and agreement made this first day of July, 1848, by and between Charles Goodyear, of the one part, and Leverett Candee, as general partners in a special partnership, located at New Haven, in the State of Connecticut, and doing business under the name and firm of "Leverett Candee"—the Hayward Rubber Company, so called, being a manufacturing company, incorporated by the laws of the State of Connecticut—"the Newark India Rubber Company," located at Newark, N. J., being a company duly incorporated by the laws of the State of New Jersey, and "Ford & Co.," of New Brunswick, N. J., of the second part.

Witnesseth, That I, the said Charles Goodyear, the party hereto of the first part, for the consideration and on the terms herein mentioned, do bargain, sell, alien, assign, and make over, and convey, to the said parties of the second part, the sole and exclusive right to use all my preparations of India rubber, and all my improvements in the preparations and use of India rubber in the manufacture of boots and shoes of all kinds; and, also, all preparations and improvements in the preparations and improvements in the preparation of India rubber, in which I, the said Goodyear, have, or may have, any interest by contract, assignment, or otherwise, so that they, the said parties, shall have the sole and exclusive use in the shoe business, as aforeaid, of all my improvements patented or to be patented, made or to be made, and patents, and of all patents issued, or which may be issued to me, bearing any date whitever, and of all or any renewals thereof, cr of any of them, and of all which may be issued to any other person or presons for improvement made by me, and for and during the unexpired term or terms of my said patents, and of all patents sweed of made, and patents or renewals of patents owned by me, or in which have or may have any interest, issued or hereafter to be issued, embracing herein all future improvements and preparations of Indias rub deemed and taken to be carried on under this agree-ment and license.

Further, said Goodyear agrees to do all that may be legal or proper, by and with the advice of his counsel, to amend, if necessary, any of his said pa-tents, and to secure more perfectly any of his said improvements, so that said grantees and licenses shall have as far as possible the sole and exclusive use of said improvements for the shoe business, as aforesaid use of said improvements for the shoe business, as aforesaid.

And said Goodyear further agrees to make any other and more formal instruments deemed advisable by counsel to carry out this memorandum of an agreements. The term "my improvements," as used in this agreement, is to extend to all improvements and patents in which I am or may become interested. Said licenses are to stamp all goods, by them made and sold, "Goodyear's Patent."

goods, by them made and sold, "Goodyear's Patent."

And it is further agreed, that if there should be any surplus of the afteen per cent provided and set apart for certain purposes, by an agreement with said Staples and Judson, after satisfying said purposes, then said parties hereto, of the second part, shall have the benefit of it towards aiding them in the expenses they may be at in proscenting the suits herein contemplated, so far as the same may go; but all other expenses they are to bear, in any event, without recourse to said Goodyear.

In witness whereof the parties have executed these presents, this first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and forty-eight.

A RECULAR BRANDY SMASHER.—An English paper says:—"The late Mr. Joshua Dixon, of Lowacown, in Wiltshire, who in 1861 died suddenly at the age of a hundred and three, had all his life boen a remarkably free liver. A coording to his own calculation, he had consumed two thousand gallons of brandy, without taking into account a variety of other kinds of liquor. He, moreover, enjoyed his faculties to the last. He was twice married; and of his numerous offspring by both wives, the oldest had died at the age of seventy, while the youngest was only eighteen at her father's death." Had this man practised temperance, what an age he would have attained:

have attained!

The Crea Revolutionists—Gammalet.—The Savannah (Ga.) News has the following letter from St. Jago de Cuba. under date of the 7th inst. :—'A number of arrests have been made at St. Jago de Cuba. Papors were taken while on a grand parade and the insurgents had taken measures to capture the head-quarters of the city, and to secure the landling of G. helds, with about men. At the same time, Lopes would have effected his landing in some part of Havana. The Judge, after having concluded the proceedings, sentenced to death four and to perpetual banishment three of the principal officers, and to ten years' hard labor, a sergeant of the garrison and two privates. The traitor who betrayed them was released. This sentence has been approved by the Captain General, at Havana.

From Persanduce — The brig Henry Matthews arrived at this port this morning, from Pernambuso April 20th. The yellow fever, which was committing such terrible have at Rio Janeirs, was also prevalent at Pernambuso, but only a few cases had yet occurred. Among the deaths was the wife of Captain Grockett, of the American bark Muskingum, who died suddenly of it while ou shore. A letter from Persambuso says that this pest of the South American coast will probably prevail there every season, though it is hoped not with the severity that it did the last season. Its chief rictima are strangers, from cooler elimates, who should be very careful while on that coast during its prevalence. There were only two American vessels in port, and business was rather quiet.—Peston Traceller, May 25.

Theatrical and Musical.

Bowery Theatre.—The famed local drama, entitled "Moll Pitcher, or the Fortune Teller of Lynn," was again presented last evening to a crowded house, and was received with every demonstration of pleasure. The scenic effect is most beautiful—particularly the view of old Charlesten bridge, Boston, by moonlight—the construction of which reflects the greatest possible credit on the talented stage manager, H. E. Stevens. The respective characters assigned to Measrs. Tilton, Jordan, Pope, Miss Wemyss and Mrs. Woodward, were sustained with great ability. A powerful bill is offered for this evening, commencing with the celebrated equestrian national drama called "Putnam, the Iron Son of '76," which had such an unprecedented run at this establishment on a former occasion. The cast embraces a host of talent; Mr. Eddy performing the part of Oneactah; Mr. J. M. Cooke, from the Liverpool theatres, will appear as Israel Putnam; and Mrs. Woodward in the beautiful part of Violetah. The performances will terminate with the drama of "Moll Pitcher," with the same excellent cast. A crowded house may be expected.

Broadway Theatre.—Two beautiful pieces are offered for this evening's entertainment. The first is Sheridan's excellent comedy of the "Rivals," with Davidge as Sir Anthony Absolute; Conway as Captain Absolute; Scharf as Bob Acres; Shaw as Sir Lucius O'Trigger; Whiting as David; Fredericks as Faulkland; Miss Julia Bennett as Lydia Languish, and Mrs. Abbott as Julia. This comedy will be worth seeing. It is well cast, and every actor in it is a star in his or her own line. Miss Julia Bennett is an actress of great dramatic celebrity. She was a great favorite in Europe, and, no doubt, will become one here. The orchestra, which is much improved, will play several overtures, and the entertainments will conclude with the "Loan of a Lover," in which Miss Julia Bennett plays her famous character of Gertrude, with songs; and Miss J. Gougenheim, a very promising actress, that of Ernestine. Great preparations ar NIBLO'S GARDEN.—The Ravel Family, the greatest favorites that have ever visited this city, commence their splendid performances on Monday evening next. They will open with a beautiful ballet pantomime, first time in this city, entitled the 'Elopement, or a Return to the Village." The entertainments will conclude with the comic pantomime of "M. Dechalumeau." No doubt they will be welcomed and cheered by hundreds of their admirers.

Eurton's Theatre.—A powerful bill is offered this evening at the above named flourishing establishment. Crowds of delighted spectators are nightly in attendance, and pass the highest encomiums on the performers and performances. The favorite comedy, by Morton, entitled "A Cure for the Heartache," cast with the entire strength of the company, will commence the entertainment—Mr. Burton sustaining the character of Frank Oatland; Mr. Elake, that of Old Rapid; Young Rapid, by Mr. Lester; Sir Hubert Stanley, by Mr. Bland; Mrs. Skerrett in the part of Miss Vortex, and Mrs. Russell in that of Ellen Vortex. After which, Miss Walters and Mr. Frederic will execute a fancy Pas de Deux, and the orchestra will play several favorite airs. The amusements will terminate with the popular farce of the "Wandering Minstrel"—Burton playing his celebrated character of Jim Bags, with his unrivalled solo on the cracked horn, and his popular song of the "Nice Young Man." In this part Mr. Burton is always received with unbounded enthuciasm; Mrs. Hughes will appear as Mrs. Crinkam, and Miss Hill as Peggy.

Erougham's Luceum.—Madame de Marguerette's piquant and attractive comedicits of the "Home Book of Beauty," again to night. All the fashionable world are agog to see who are immortalized in this sparkling production. When it is recollected that, in addition to this elegant piece, is given the "Row at the Lyceum," for the last time, and above all, that the entertainments are for the pleasing and admired actress and vocalist, Miss Julia Gould, there is but little doubt that the Lycum will contain a full and as usual fashionable auditory to-night. Miss Julia Gould is a deserving actress, and a very pleasing vocalist; she only requires to be placed in prominent characters in order to the full developement of excellent dramatic abilities.

National Theatre.—The continued success of the gorgeous spectacle of "Thalaba the Destroyer, or the Burning Sword," with its grant and imposing scenery, intricate machinery, beautiful costumes, equipments, &c., must prove a source of great gratification to the manager, and impel him to produce other attractions on, if possible, a more enlarged scale of splendor. Those who have not yet seen it, should avail themselves of the present opportunity, as it must positively be withdrawn after Saturday, to make room for other novelties. This evening samusements will commence with the favorite comedy of the "Sleeping Draught," with an excellent cast; which will be followed by a favorite dance by Miss Malvina, and a favorite overture by the orchestra; and the performances will conclude with the grand spectacle of "Thalaba," with a cast of undoubted celebrity. With such extraordinary attractions, and the low price of admission, the National must continue in a dourishing career.

Barnum's Museum.—We are sorry to learn that to-morrow's performance will close the engagement entered into with the celebrated Bateman to morrow's performance will close the engage-ment entered into with the celebrated Batoman ment entered into with the celebrated Batoman children. Manager Greenwood has endeavored to seal another re-engagement with Mr. Bateman, the father of the children, but the liberal offer was respectfully declined, as they are soon to enter into the grand agreement made with Mr. Barnum—a sejourn of two years through Europe, for $50,000. Go this day and evening and see them. They appear in comedy and drama. To-day they play the extravaganza of "Bombastes Furioso" and the "Young Couple." All sheuld go early.

CHRISTY'S MINSTRELS .- This inimitable band of negro performers offer an excellent programme this evening. The soles on the violin and guitar are executed with great harmony, and the singing gives general satisfaction.

FELLOWS' MINSTRELS continue to offer the same attractive entertainments, and are honored with crowded and delighted audiences. A choice selec-tion of songs and dances to-night.

Mns. Skennerr's Benerir will take place on Monday evening next, at Burton's theatre. An ex-cellent bill is offered.

Exercis's Museum and Menagerie will give another exhibition this evening in Brooklyn.

Mr. Hunt's Benefit will come off to-morrow evening, at Brougham's Lyceum. We hope the house may be provided.

Trorruns.—In addition to the pieces of cannon captured from the British during the revolutionary and the last war with Great Britain—"altima ratio regum," (the final reasoning of kings)—and which are to be seen at the Wasington arsenal, there have recently been deposited at that piace two brass twenty-four pounders, each ton feet in length, "surrendered to the American forces at Vera Cruz, on the 29th of March, 1817." They bear the coat of arms of Mexico—an eagle stranging a serpent, and beneath his feet the cactus, with the words "Republica Mexicana." These cannon were manufactured by J. and E. Hall, Darford, England, in 1844.—Republic.

Extract of a Letter from a Gentleman, in Dayton, G.
Dayrow, May I. 1867.

Dr. A. M. MAURICKAU—My dear Sir;—The Married Weman's Private Neediesi Companion, for which I unclosed one dellar to year address, came safely to hand. I would not have troubled you with those few lines, but that I am impelled by a sense of gratitude, for myrealf and wife, to give ulterance to our sincer and heartfelt enortions.

My wite has been perceptibly sinking for some three years or more, in consequence of her great angiesh and surfering some months before and sorie great angiesh and surfering some months before and sorie debilitated and prestrated her, pating her life in imminent danger, and which was, on the last eccasion, despaired of. I supposed that this state of things was inevitable, and resigned myself to meet the worst. At this time (flow about two months) I heard your book highly agot ken of, as containing some matters traching my case. On the receipt and perusal I cannot express to you the relief it afforded my distressed mind, and the joy its pages imparted to my wife, on learning that the great discovery of M. M. Ossomeaux provided a remedy. It opened a prospect to me which I little conceived was possible. No pecuniary consideration can over repay the obligations I am ander to you for having been the means of imparting to us the matter contained in 'The Married Woman's Private Modical Companion. But for this, ere another year would have passed over my head, in all human probability, my wife would have been in her grave, and my children left motherless.

COMINTENCE AND HEALTH.

My DEAR BIR—I buow you will have the kindmas to been with me in encreaching upon your time, while I acknowledge (in behalf of myself and wile, his evitgations we feel ourselves under to you, in having made known cortain makers considered in your most invaluable flavoried. Woman's crew contained in your most invaluable flavoried. Woman's crew contained in your most invaluable flavoried woman's in gold to me. If I appear. It has been worn it swight in gold to me. If I appear it have been to the winger in gold to me. If I appear it has been worn it would nest the state my situation when I obtained your book through the extent to which I have, through it, been benefitted. I wile state my situation when I obtained your book through the merest curiosity. I look upon it as one of the most forwinable evenus of my life. I had been married some ten yours, and was the father of seven calidren. I was long strucching tences, but the results of my utmost exercions at the end left me about where I was at the beginning of such year; and that only with the most stinted seconomy, sufficing with barely the necessaries of life. Finally, this constant effort was beginning to have its effect upon my health; I fait less capable to endure its continuance, while I fait the account of the preservence.

This consequence of the protrasted condition of my wife (with occasional internaission) for six years, much of the lime continual remission) for six years, much of the lime contend to her bed, and of course incapable of taking the charge and management of household affairs. Her condition arose from causes of which I was ignorant. Oh, what would have been avoided, that I then seen a copy of the Married Woman's Private Medical Companion.
